

Received May 18-2023 from Peace Corps.gov

Hello Gulf Coast Council of Returned Peace Corps Volunteers,

I work as an Outreach and Selection Specialist on the Peace Corps' Virtual Service Pilot (VSP), which enables the agency to extend its supportive reach to new partners and areas where in-person Volunteers cannot go.

Virtual Service is a great opportunity to reconnect with the agency and its mission without leaving home. Participants donate 5-15 hours each week to collaborate with their dedicated counterpart and asynchronously complete project tasks. We have over 90 new opportunities in 20+ different countries available online.

Host country partners are depending on us to find eligible returned Peace Corps Volunteers (RPCVs) and we need your help!

Below are three ways you can help us spread the word about Virtual Service and reach the RPCVs in your group:

1. Include the blurb below and photo(s) attached in your monthly newsletter.

Participate in Peace Corps' Virtual Service!

Peace Corps partners are looking for remote support from RPCVs like you on their short-term projects. As a Virtual Service Participant, you will apply your professional skills on a part-time basis, collaborating with your dedicated counterpart and completing asynchronous tasks.

With engagements in every sector and in 20+ countries there's an opportunity for every skillset.

Explore open engagements and express interest today!

2. Promote on your social media platforms. We've provided some language and photos (attached).

Facebook: Do you miss your Peace Corps service? Why not participate in Virtual Service? The short-term engagements allow you to apply your professional skills to build capacity in communities abroad without leaving home.

This is your chance to build your intercultural experience, build capacity in others, and make meaningful connections.

Check out the virtual opportunities in every sector: <https://www.peacecorps.gov/returned-volunteers/virtual-service-pilot/engagements/?#results>

3. Instagram: Join the hundreds of returned Peace Corps Volunteers (RPCVs) who are making meaningful contributions to communities abroad by participating in Virtual Service. Participants virtually collaborate with in-country counterparts on an identified list of project tasks.

From supporting English clubs and classes to developing conservation strategies and educational podcast episodes, there are opportunities to suit every skillset and interest.

Visit peacecorps.gov/virtual-service/ to learn more.

#peacecorps #rpcv

Thank you in advance, and please let me know if you have any questions.

I look forward to connecting with you,

Brianna Maltez

Brianna Maltez

She/Her/Hers

Outreach and Selection Specialist

Virtual Service Pilot

RPCV Mozambique | 2014-2016

APPLY TO VOLUNTEER >

Photos from Armenia and Madagascar